

Bibliographic Information
Source	Title and Year	Information	Link
A	"The First Vote" (1867)	Illustration shows a queue of African American men: The first, dressed as a laborer, casts his vote; the second is dressed as a businessman; the third is wearing a Union army uniform; and the fourth appears to be dressed as a farmer.	https://www.loc.gov/item/2011648984/
B	"Ready to Vote" (1918)	Photograph shows Margaret V. Lally at the door of a voting booth during the first election where women could vote, New York City.	https://www.loc.gov/item/ggb2006002004/
C	Demonstration for reduction in voting age, Seattle (1969)	Photograph shows teenage protesters with signs in support of lowering the voting age nationally to 18.	http://digitalcollections.lib.washington.edu/cdm/singleitem/collection/imlsmohai/id/1715/rec/6
D	"Sign, Mineola, Texas" (1939)	Photograph shows a sign in a small town in Texas ordering citizens to pay the poll tax to vote.	https://www.loc.gov/item/fsa1997025030/PP/
E	"Rosa Parks' poll tax receipt" (1957)	Photograph shows a 1957 receipt for payment of the poll tax. The receipt belongs to civil rights activist Rosa Parks, showing she paid the tax. Two years earlier, she had been arrested on a bus in Montgomery, Alabama, for refusing to give her seat to a white person. The event began the Montgomery bus boycott.	https://www.loc.gov/resource/ms85943.002605/?sp=2
F	"The color line still exists" (1879)	Cartoon from Harper's Weekly shows Uncle Sam writing on wall, "Eddikashun qualifukashun. The Black man order be eddikated afore he kin vote with US Wites, signed Mr. Solid South."	http://cdn.loc.gov/service/pnp/cph/3b20000/3b29000/3b29600/3b29638r.jpg
G	THE FANNIE LOU HAMER, ROSA PARKS, CORETTA SCOTT KING, AND CESAR E. CHAVEZ VOTING RIGHTS ACT REAUTHORIZATION AND AMENDMENTS ACT OF 2006	In 2006, Congress held hearings to review the effects of Voting Rights Act of 1965, which made it illegal for any state to have laws that restricted voting rights. Congress reauthorized the Act for another 25 years, and President George W. Bush signed the reauthorization.	https://www.congress.gov/congressional-report/109th-congress/senate-report/295